Activity Report: A one day seminar-cum-workshop on entrepreneurship and skill development was organized by IQAC, APC ROY GOVERNMENT COLLEGE on 04.05.2023, in collaboration with Centre for Floriculture & Agri-Business Management (COFAM), NBU.

Prof. Om Prakash Mishra, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, NBU was the chief guest and Dr. Ranadhir Chakraborty, Professor, Department of Biotechnology, NBU was the keynote speaker of the program. The seminar started with the opening address by our respected OIC, Prof. Mayukh Sarker and respected IQAC Coordinator, Dr. Kartick Chandra Dey following the introduction of the chief guest and the resource person.

Through his motivational and vibrant speech, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Prof. Mishra, inspired our students to ignite their inner talent so that they can use their inherent skills for their overall development. He asked them to come forward to serve the nation with all their vitality. The speech indeed created an unprecedented response among the students.

Then came our guest lecturer, Dr. Chakraborty who brilliantly put forward the activities of COFAM, NBU which has been engaged for the entrepreneurship development and production of planting material for the development of Floriculture in North Bengal since 2006. His speech was worth listening to and praised for as it is so simple for people from any sector. Dr. Chakraborty nicely demonstrated how COFAM are helping the local needy people to design colourful flowers and sell them in the market.

After the lecture session, the students were taken to our departmental laboratory of Zoology where the COFAM team provided them hands-on training regarding the production of beautifully coloured flowers.

The main purpose of this seminar-cum-workshop was to motivate the students to be the part of such a unique floriculture practice which in near future would definitely help them to be a successful entrepreneur and the purpose was served to the greatest extent.
